BETHEL MAN DROWNS AS BOAT OVERTURNS

Jesse Vashaw of Berlin, formerly of Bethel, and Arthur Malloy of Berlin were drowned Sunday when a fishing boat overturned on Lake Moosehead. The bodies have not been recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Littlehale of Bryant Pond were thrown into the water at the same time, but were able to cling to the boat over an hour until rescued by Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Thurston of Portland.

Mr. Vashaw was born in Bethel Jan. 24, 1907, the son of the late Harry and Maude Vashaw. He was educated in the local schools and had been employed by the Brown Company. At the time of his death he was captain of the Brown Company steamer, Rowell. For the past 12 years he had lived at Berlin.

He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Ruby DeWitt of Old Town; four brothers, Fay, Thomas and Harry of Berlin, and Stanley of the U. S. Army; and a sister, Eva, of Rumford.

GOULD TRACK TEAM MEETS BUT ONE DEFEAT IN SEASON

Gould Academy, boasting one of the strongest high school track teams in the State, enjoyed one of its most successful seasons in the history of the school. A well balanced squad led by Captain "Bud" Runyon, outstanding hurdler, opened the season by defeating the Bates Frosh, Lewiston, and Rumford in a quadrangular meet. The boys from Gould accumulated as many points as the other three schools combined. Other teams defeated during the season were Wilton Academy, Mexico, Norway, Fryeburg Academy, and Lyndon Institute—a strong Vermont aggregation. The only defeat of the season was at the hands of Hebron Academy—Maine Prep School Champions, where the factors of age and experience combined to barely overcome Gould by a score of 53 to 55.

Of the five new track and field records broken this year, "Bud" Ireland, son of Gould's Headmaster, was singularly responsible for four. Ireland set a new century mark at 10:7, ran the 220 in 23.5, the quarter mile in 54:7, and won further laurels by broad jumping 20 feet 1½ inches. Dick Bryant, yearling miler, set a new school record at 4:50.2. Great things may be expected of him as this is his first year in competition and his progress will be noted with marked interest in this section of the state.

Other standout performers were Whip Abbe, consistent score gatherer in the dashes, broad and high jump; Charlie St. Thomas, hurdler and high jumper; and Louie Littlehale, the team's capable weight man.

Although Coach Bob Bateman loses many of his tracksters to the college ranks there are a number of underclassmen who fill form a nucleus for next year's team.

MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM HELD DURING SHOWER

Local Memorial Day exercises Saturday afternoon were cut short by one of the showers which threatened throughout the day, a considerable downpour coming as the speaker of the day, David Nichols of Lincolnville, addressed a good sized audience.

The parade, which marched from the American Legion rooms to the Soldier's Monument, was headed by the Bethel Band. Organizations represented in the parade were the American Legion and Sons of Union Veterans and their Auxiliaries, Home Guard, Boy and Girl Scouts, and students of the village schools. Events at the Monument included invocation by Rev. M. A. Gordon, several selections by the Band, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Elmer Runyon II, short address by Mr. Nichols, and benediction by Rev. H. T. Wallace.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare

Last January, an official announcement said that the United States Army would reach a total of 3,000,000 men by the end of 1942. Since then, the actual size of the Army and precise plans for its expansion have not been announced, inasmuch as they are military secrets of the first order. Some commentators have forecast that in time the Army might total nine or ten million. The best available information seems to indicate that a total of at least 6,000,000 will be attained.

That is obviously going to have a revolutionary effect on the manpower of this country. However there is no factual evidence to support the scare rumors which say that every physically fit man under 38 is certain to be placed in uniform. Selective Service heads are making a genuine effort to create an Army of the size needed with minimum disruption of American family life.

Here is how matters shape up at this time, according to published statements:

First, practically all available able-bodied men in the 20-35 year bracket have been called. Many who were given temporary deferment for occupational reasons are now being summoned. In time, women and older men will replace thousands of young men in defense industries.

Second, the Selective Service Boards are placing in the 1-A classification all men who have no genuine claim for dependency. That includes men with working wives, men who contribute little to the support of their households, and men with means. Almost all of these men will be in uniform by the end of the year, unless they are unable to pass the physical examinations or perform vital work in war industry.

Third, it is universally believed that Congress will soon approve a bill providing Government grants to dependents of service men. These grants, as now projected, are small — around $50 a month for a wife and child. But they will make it possible for the Selective Service Boards to call thousands of men who are now deferred for economic reasons.

Fourth, a new draft classification, 2-B, has been adopted. And that is a matter of very great importance. At the present time, men with genuine dependents are classified as 3-A. The 3-M classification is for men with genuine dependents, who in addition are employed in war work. The hope is that thousands of men who now have non-war jobs will shift to war jobs in order to obtain the 2-B deferment. Some observers say that eventually the Selective Service Boards will operate on the "work or fight" policy which existed in World War I. In other words a man will be given the choice of going into the Army, or leaving a non-war occupation for a war occupation instead of on farms. This seems to be one of the most serious of the unsolved problems.

It is probable that the immediate course of the war will have a direct bearing on Army expansion plans here. If, for instance, Russia continues to hold the Germans, and Japan is stopped in the Pacific, a U.S. Army of the largest size possible will not be necessary. If on the other hand, Germany manages to crack the Russian defense this summer, and if Japan continues on a war footing, you can look with assurance to Army expansion on a tremendously accelerated scale.

It is reported that men between 35 and 44, which was the second group registered, will be given a general rule, be taken only for behind-the-lines Army service. It is expected that the greater proportion of this group will go to work in war industry. No pans have been made for the 45-65 group of registrants.

The industries which are classified as essential to the war effort are definitely limited in number. Lawyers, store clerks, newspaper men, wholesalers, advertising men, etc., have no claim for deferment. Deferment is given only to men who hold a job which is directly and absolutely necessary to the production and transportation of the raw and finished materials which are involved in war.

What this all adds up to is plain.

If you are a single man, under 35, in reasonable health, you will go into the Army, unless you are virtually irreplaceable in some industry. If you have dependents who look to you entirely for support, you will be deferred for the time being, but there is a strong likelihood that in time the continuance of your deferment will depend upon your obtaining a job in war industry. If you have minor physical defects, you are not exempt from military service. The original physical standards have been relaxed, and men with defective eyesight, hearing, feet, etc., are being called to the colors and assigned to non-combatant duty.

Many a problem remains to be worked out. An Army of 6,000,000 men would mean that four to six times that number would be needed in industries manufacturing and transporting supplies. On top of that, agriculture must be kept going and on an expanding scale, as much as we are sending tremendous quantities of foodstuffs to our Allies. Selective Service heads, such as General Horsley, have advised the Boards to exempt enough farm labor to keep food production up to the necessary level. But, reports say, in some areas the draft is virtually denuding the farms of labor. Furthermore, farmers cannot pay the high wages paid by war industry, and workers are naturally taking jobs in war

Kidneys Must Work Well

For You To Feel Well

24 hours every day, 7 days every week, never stopping, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more waste were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove surplus fluid, excess solids and other waste matter that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of the kidney system is upset when kidneys fail to function properly.

Burning, scaly or too frequent urination sometimes warn that something is wrong. You may suffer from rheumatic aches, toothache, dizziness, rheumatism, constipation, gas, getting up at nights, swelling.

Why not try Doan's Pills? You will be using a medicine recommended the country over. Doan's Pills help to filter the blood and help them to wash out the poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD PICTURING PETS

For better animal pictures, photograph your pets at their own eye-level.

PICTURING pets is something that I think every photographer enjoys. And now that the season's crop of puppies, kittens, and other young animals—and fowl—has arrived, it won't be long before you start shooting them—with a camera, of course.

Here's what I suggest. First, work alone with the animal; or, if not alone, with just one assistant at the most. When you attempt picture-making with too many people around it may prove distracting to your subject.

Next, you'll soon learn that it will make things easier for you if you place the animal in such a position that he can't move about too much. For instance, if puppies and kittens are placed on top of a box or stool which is high enough so they are reluctant to jump down, you'll find it's not so hard to catch them in a cute or interesting pose.

Point three, in the technique of animal photography, is to do your picture making at the subject's eye-level—as in our illustration. Animals viewed from above, even from our own eye-level, do not often make pleasing pictures. Usually they appear too foreshortened. They normally look much more natural, when photographed from a low point of view.

Fourth, keep your backgrounds simple. Our illustration probably would have been improved somewhat if the area behind the subject wasn't cluttered up with branches. Outdoors there's no better backdrop than the sky. Use it often.

Finally, I'd suggest that you use a fairly high shutter speed—1/100 second or higher is advisable—to stop any unexpected movement on the part of your subject. If your camera hasn't that fast a shutter, you'll still be able to make first-rate animal pictures if you do your snapshooting during your pet's quiet moments.

THIS BUSINESS OF Living

BY SUSAN THAYER

PATRIOTIC HOUSEKEEPING

Remember when the only job of American industry was to please you and me, because the women of the United States held the purse strings and spent most of the money? Remember when there were new styles in bath rooms, new conveniences for the kitchen, as well as new fashions every season, and we took silk stockings and pure wool and plenty of gauze as a matter of course?

It wasn't so long ago that the magazines of the country were full of advertisements urging us to buy instead of save and to do without! But already those times seem like ancient history—almost as long ago as the spring when the banks were closing and the papers were still full of stories about gangsters.

The complexion of our everyday life is changing rapidly. As consumers we're no longer free to choose as much as we please and have all we want of anything. Today we're no longer living for ourselves alone or at most for our families, but for our country.

Looking at it one way, you might think that we're having a pretty hard time. With only three gallons of gasoline a week we can't go many places, and with half a pound of sugar we must think twice when we plan a meal, and with so much of our industry working for Uncle Sam instead of for us we're bound to have to get along with a lot less than we're used to.

But in spite of privations and hard work and worry about the boys in service, aren't you really pretty contented, deep down inside? Don't a lot of things make sense that didn't three years ago? Even meal getting is a patriotic job these strenuous days. You're really doing something important for your country when you go easy on the sugar and save grease and see that family has all of the vitamins it needs! When you make over old clothes instead of buying new ones and put the money in war stamps instead, you're helping stabilize our economic system, and when you clean out your attic and save your newspapers you're helping in the great work of conservation.

It's satisfying to be needed, as we all are these days and it doesn't seem to hurt to do without when everybody else is doing it, too. But I sometimes wonder if there isn't still another reason we're talking to our privations so gracefully and finding a simpler life satisfying. Isn't it because we know that when we've won this war and industry can devote itself to peacetime production once more we're going to have more of the good things of life than we ever had before?

YOUR CARHow to Get the MOST out of it*FEEL ITS PULSE OCCASIONALLY

A modern automobile, like a human being, can take a lot of punishment and still keep going. Just because your car is able to move away from the curb under its own power, don't assume it is operating efficiently. If you notice some obvious symptoms, naturally you investigate. But even if you don't find any symptoms, it pays to run a finger over your car's pulse occasionally.

Simplest check is gas consumption. Fill your tank. Note your speedometer mileage. Keep a record of the gas added. After 1000 miles fill the tank again and divide the mileage driven by the number of gallons added plus the gas required to fill it the second time. Most car ailments affect gas mileage, just as most bodily ailments affect pulse beat. So if your mileage per gallon is low, further investigation is warranted. Bad spark plugs, for example, sometimes waste as much as one gallon in ten.

Occasional periodic check-ups are recommended for the following:

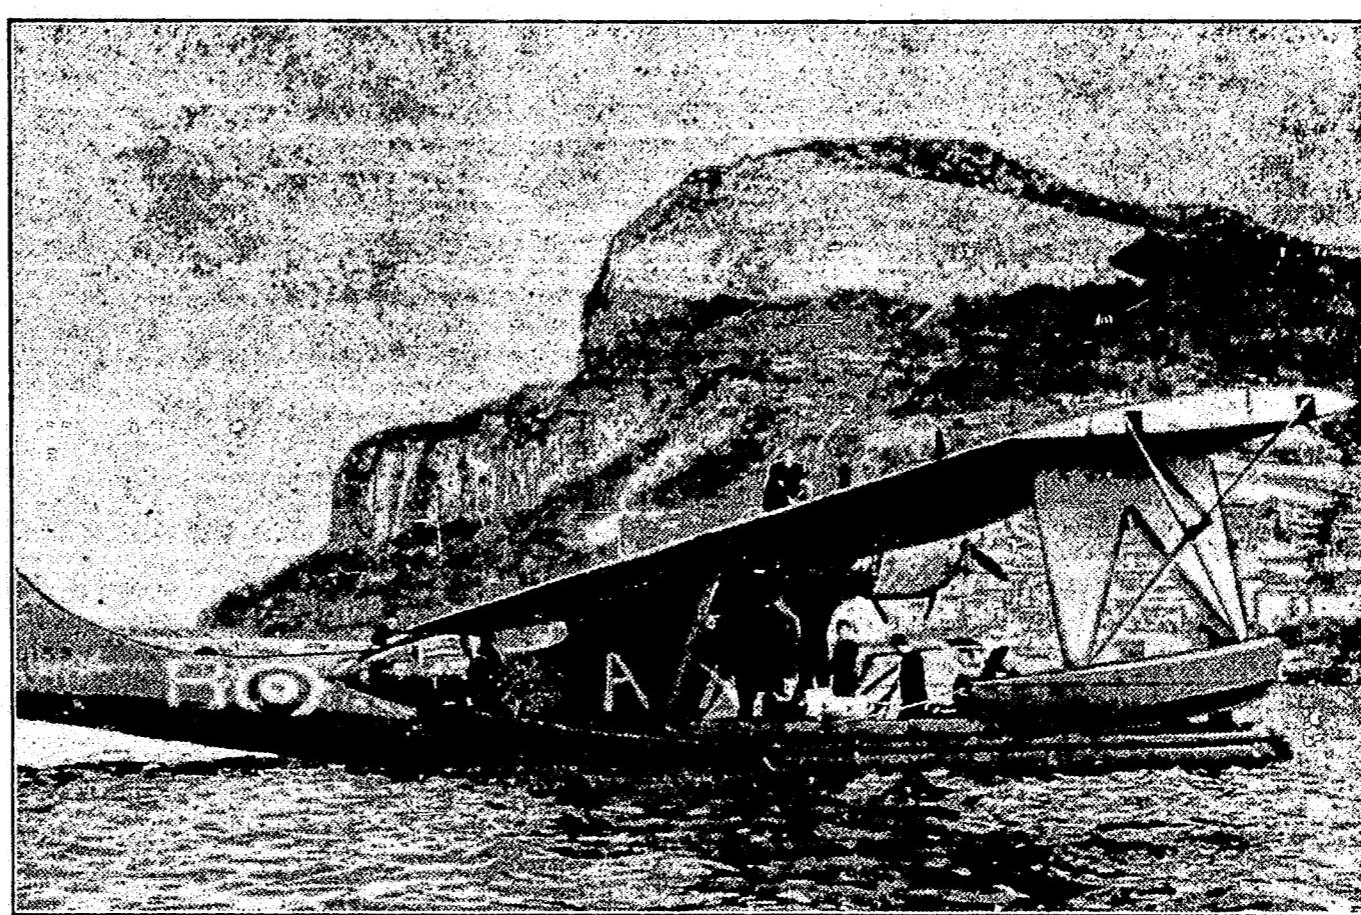

Cooling system. Radiator, flush out twice a year. Fan belt, check for shredding at 10,000 miles.

Ignition system. Distributor points and timing, every 10,000 miles. Spark plugs, every 5,000 miles. Spark control, for correct adjustment to type of gas used.

Fuel system. Automatic choke, twice a year if seasonal adjustments are required. Fuel pump, once or twice a year. Fuel lines, occasionally for leaks. Don't forget the air cleaner needs cleaning too, and don't tinker with the carburetor.

Drive system. Adjust clutch occasionally so that pedal has one inch of "play."

Note: This is the ninth in a series of articles based on the book, Automobile User's Guide, published by the Customer Research staff of General Motors. Next article: Batteries and Brakes.

AUSTRALIA IS UNITED NATIONS' MAIN PACIFIC BASE

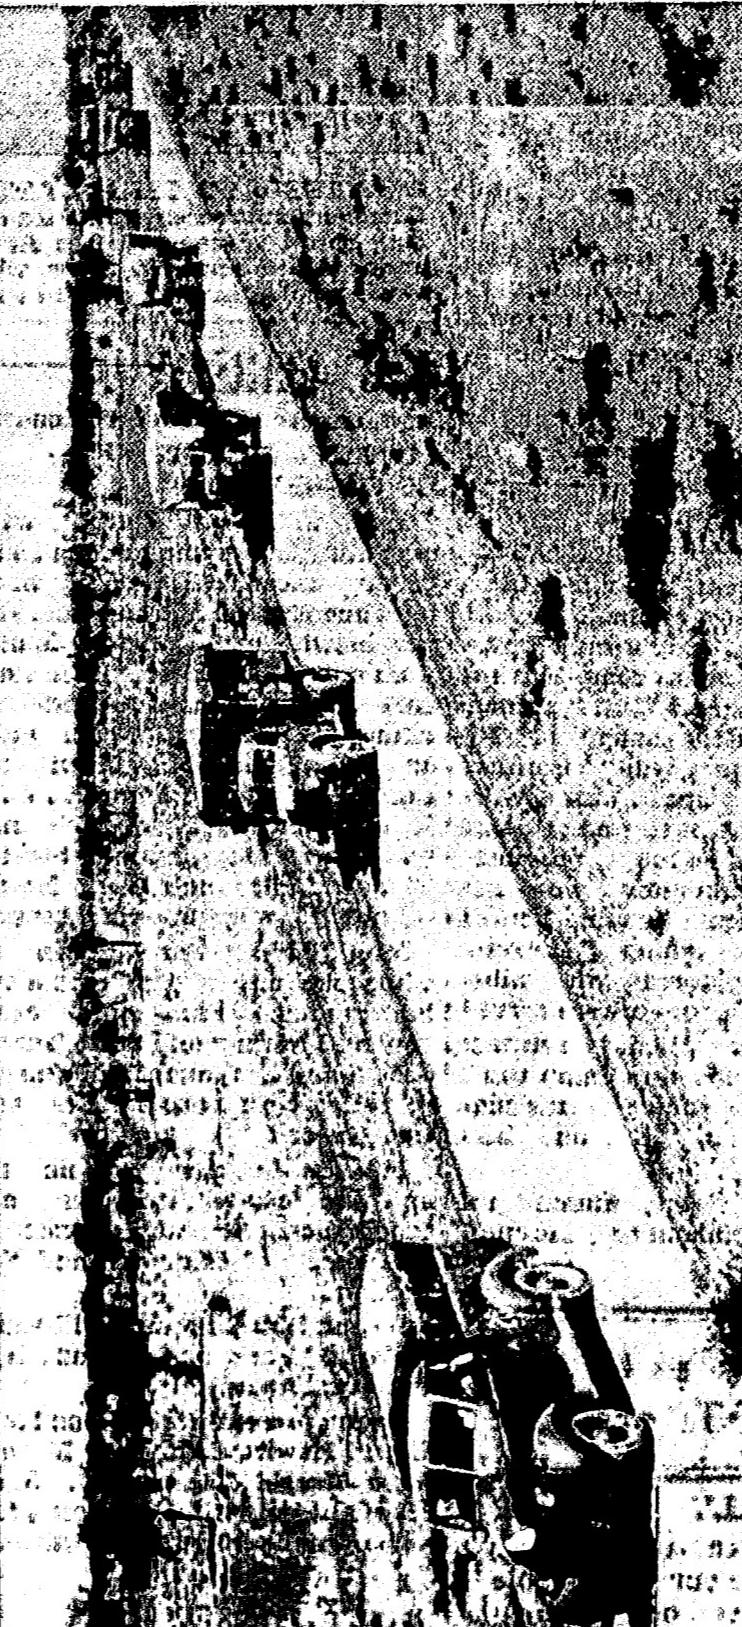

CONTINENT MAY BE NEXT U.S. LAND FRONT

AUSTRALIA'S chief importance to the United States and the United Nations today is that it offers them their last—and almost last—Southwest Pacific base from which an offensive against Japan can be launched. Moreover Australia, though not so well developed as the U. S., has large productive deposits of copper, iron, lead and other minerals which would be useful to the Japanese war machine. Unlike the rubber and oil of the Dutch East Indies, Australia's minerals cannot be burned to prevent their capture; so if Japan gets Australia, she gets Australia's resources.

The United Nations, therefore, can hardly let Australia fall to the Japanese. The Anzacs' courage and fighting ability has been demonstrated on a dozen battlefields in two wars; and they will defend Australia to the last foot. But reinforcements, arms and equipment—mostly from the U. S.—are needed to join with Australia's 550,000 trained soldiers and militia, her small, tough navy, her half-equipped, but courageous air force. Australia, in short, is likely to become the United States' first full-fledged land front in World War II—a front which, if held, can be used as a continental spring-board to victory in the South Pacific.

NAVAL STATIONS include Darwin, in the North, Fremantle, in the West, and Sydney, Navy has several cruisers, many smaller ships.

TO AID in her own defense, Australia has an army of 400,000 men at home, 150,000 overseas (total: 8 per cent of population).

NORTHERN Australia, nearest Japan, is tropical, isolated and difficult to defend, but an important base for counter-attack.

AUSTRALIA produces some bombers (above) and has some U. S. planes, but not enough for her 60,000 pilots and crewmen.

ELLINGWOOD-CUMMINGS
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cummings, Hanover, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Tuesday afternoon, when their daughter, Barbara Roxy, became the bride of Freeman Ellingwood, formerly of Oquossoc and now with the U. S. Army at Camp Shelby, Mississippi.

The double ring service was performed in the presence of the immediate families by Rev. Warren Palmer, pastor of the Congregational Church at Norway. An arch of evergreen and wild flowers made a beautiful setting for the occasion.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in silk organza, with a veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of rose buds and lilies of the valley. The wedding march was played by Mrs. G. C. Barker.
